

Let´em know ( This Girl´s Here To Play)

Jessica Falk/Stephen Haughey

I woke up one mornin´, heard a voice like a warnin´
Tellin´ me I had to break away.

It was now or never, to go hell bent for leather.

Let´em know that this girl´s here to play!

CHORUS

Let´em know who I am, been hidin´all my life.

Feelin´ worn and useless lika a dull edge on a knife.

Let´em know who I am, not some flower on a wall,

I´m a lovin´ woman and I´m givin´ it my all

Hidin´ all my life, afraid to do some livin´

To leave the dark behind me and step into the light.

Let´em know who I am, open up the door.

Show´em that Miss Lonelyhearts ain´t livin´ here no more.

Gonna grab that wheel of fortune, ride it to the top,

for myself and for the people I love dear.

´Cause I know that you´re here for me when dark clouds come and callin´

When you hold me all those shadows disappear.

CHORUS

´Cause you know who I am, been hidin´all my life

feelin´ worn and useless like a dull edge on a knife.

Still you know who I am, ain´t some flower on a wall,

I´m a lovin´ woman and I´m givin´ it my all.

Hidin´ all my life, afraid to do some livin´

to leave the dark behind me and step into the light.

I know who I am, and what I´ve come to say is:

roll the dice and spin the wheel, this girl´s here to play.

CHORUS

Let´em know who I am, been hidin´all my life.

Feelin´ worn and useless like a dull edge on a knife.

Let´em know who I am, not some flower on a wall,

I´m a lovin´ woman and I´m givin´ it my all

Hidin´ all my life, afraid to do some livin´

to leave the dark behind me and step into the light.

I know who I am, and what I´ve come to say:

Is roll the dice and spin the wheel - this girl´s here to play!

Roll the dice and spin the wheel - this girl´s here to play!
